A Personal Message from the Office of the Acting Fire Chief Halifax Regional Fire & Emergency

Halifax Regional Fire & Emergency (HRFE) is proud to be selected as the honorary host city for the Canadian Fallen Firefighters Memorial Ceremony in 2017. One hundred years ago the fire service suffered the largest loss of firefighters in a single event in Canadian history.

Halifax was the site of the Halifax Explosion on Dec. 6, 1917, when the SS Mont-Blanc collided with the Norwegian vessel SS Imo in the Halifax Harbour/Bedford Basin, causing the largest man made explosion before the invention of atomic weapons. The explosion killed approximately 2,000 people and injured an estimated 9,000 others. Of those who lost their lives as a result of the explosion were nine firefighters from West Street Station 2 attempting to extinguish the pre-explosion fire. The shockwaves from the explosion were felt across Nova Scotia, but the effects were felt all over the world.

The firefighting community came together to assist the Halifax Fire Department during this tragedy, forming a bond stretching from coast to coast. This bond continues today during the Canadian Fallen Firefighter Memorial Service in Ottawa. It is with great humility that we thank our national firefighting family, who will remember our nine brothers who lost their lives as a result of that tragic day.

HRFE is honoured to be hosting the 2017 Canadian Fallen Firefighters Annual Memorial Service in Ottawa, where we will support and pay tribute to all members who have given the ultimate sacrifice in the name of keeping our communities safe.

Sincerely,

Brian Gray, Acting Fire Chief

Not one to focus on himself, he preferred to create opportunity for other's successes. But perhaps in doing so, the struggle to stay mentally healthy was too great.*

In addition, he was a full time correctional officer at the Kingston and Millhaven penitentiaries. He wasn't with the Loyalist Fire Department long as a volunteer, but it was a new calling for him for which he applied his usual brand of enthusiasm, respect and unquenchable thirst for knowledge.*

Anyone who knew Patrick would describe him as a jovial, intelligent, kind, and witty individual. All of his comrades describe him as a natural leader, but he was a humble man and would describe himself always as a student. "We never know enough. There is always room to learn more from others", he would say. His thick French accent and "Pidgeonisms" became legend at his workplace and were always a source of amusement.

He was a consummate professional in everything he did, right down to his dress and deportment. His adage was; "do the right thing always". More than anything Patrick was a humble man who never took credit for things and rarely accepted compliments or praise well. His kindness towards others, his passion for travel, camping, tactical sport shooting, and his exceptional role as a father and husband will be the things we remember most fondly about him.

We will never forget him and aspire daily to embody those traits we admired so much in him. His absence has left a huge void in our lives, but we are so grateful for the memories he left us.

*As a father and husband, Gino was passionate about his family. He always said that his twin sons, Matthew and Patrick, were the greatest achievements of his life. Steve "Opie" – called by all of his firefighting crew - joined the Toronto Fire Department on November 2, 1981. As a small boy, this was something he wanted more than anything. Steve had a love of all sports, including golf, baseball, and football, and once played on The Junior Toronto Argonauts. He also enjoyed hunting and fishing.

Steve was extremely proud of his brotherhood and was passionate about his work. He would often entertain people with jokes, or sometimes a harmless prank, all in good fun of course.

Cottage ownership was something on Steve's bucket list. While he was able to fulfill this dream, sadly he was never able to enjoy it as his journey with his illness began shortly after. He passed a few weeks after celebrating his 28th wedding anniversary, and a few months before retirement.

His passion for his job and community was surpassed only by his love for his family and took care of everyone he loved. Coming from a large family, Don was always on hand to help out. Married for 27 years, never a moment went by that his love, pride and respect was not shown or felt by his wife Janet and daughters Megan and Taylor.

He made it as a highly respected member of the Maple Ridge honour guard and training officer/mentor to the new recruits over his many years.

He was an excellent father to his two children Grace and Calym and when his daughter Grace got ill he did not hesitate and rose to the occasion, becoming a live organ donor by giving his kidney to Grace. It didn't seem to matter where Dennis went, he loved all the people along the way. Neighbours were never neighbours to him, he had to get to know them all, and grow friendships wherever he went.

His favorite line was "I'm kind of a big deal". Dennis really was a great big deal, everything he did was big, and especially the way he loved his two kids and our family. His trade mark was, always having a smile on his face through whatever was happening.

REMEMBERING OUR HALIFAX NINE/ NOUS NOUS RAPPELONS HALIFAX... ILS ÉTAIENT NEUF POMPIERS

December of 2017 will be the 100th anniversary of the Halifax Explosion. Not only was it the largest man-made explosion until the atomic bomb in 1945, it also killed approximately 2000 citizens and injured 9000. The Canadian Fire Service remembers it as the darkest day in Canadian firefighter history, as nine members of the Halifax Fire Department were killed answering the alarm.

In 1917 Halifax was a booming sea port supplying the Great War in Europe. On the morning of Thursday December 6, 1917, the empty 5000 ton vessel Imo collided with the fully loaded munitions ship Mont Blanc lodging its prow into the Mont Blanc's starboard bow. The collision started a fire which spread quickly throughout the deck and hold containing 2600 tons of explosives. As the crew abandoned ship it drifted into Halifax's Pier 6 and spread fire to the wooden pier. The Halifax Fire Department was notified just before 9 a.m. and responded to Box 83 at Pier 6 to fight a regular fire...or so they thought.

Firefighters from Halifax's Station 2 responded with their first motorized apparatus, an American LaFrance pumper, known as the Patricia. The six crew members- Captain William Broderick, Captain George Maltus, driver Billy Wells, firefighters Walter Hennessey, Frank Killian and Frank Leahy were the first firefighters on the scene and were unaware of the ship's cargo. Fire Chief Edward Condon and Deputy Chief William Brunt arrived in their roadster and, seeing the overwhelming fire, were in the process of calling a second alarm.

At 9:05 while rolling out hoses to attempt to fight the mounting fire, the Mount Blanc exploded with a force of 3 kilotons obliterating the dockyard area and levelling everything within a 1.6 kilometre radius. As a mushroom cloud rose high above the harbour a resulting 18 metre tidal wave further added to the destruction. The Mont Blanc was completely destroyed with its deck gun landing 5.5 kilometres away while pieces of hot shrapnel fell throughout the city. Several pieces struck firefighters John Spruin and John Duggan, responding with horse-drawn hose wagons from Stations 1 and 7, killing them and their horses. The Chief, Deputy, and four members from the Patricia were also killed instantly while driver Billy Wells miraculously survived after the blast completely stripped him of clothing and the tidal wave carried him away.

Firefighter Frank Leahy survived the initial blast but succumbed to his injuries on December 31 and now rests with firefighter Broderick and Chief Condon in Holy Cross Cemetery. Firefighters Brunt, Maltus, Spruin, Hennessey and Kileen were interred in Mount Olivet Cemetery, while the body of firefighter John Duggan was never found.

The death toll for the Halifax Fire Department was nine and to this day remains the largest single incident death toll for a fire department in Canada. On the 75th anniversary of the Halifax explosion the Halifax Fire Department erected a monument in honour of their fallen members. Each year since the 1992 unveiling, the Halifax Regional Fire Emergency Honour Guard holds a ceremony to remember the nine fallen.

In 2012 the nine Halifax firefighters, who were killed like so many firefighters as they rushed toward danger, had their names engraved on the new Canadian Firefighters Memorial. While the names of those on the memorial wall are put on randomly roughly in the area of Canada they perished, all those who were killed together are engraved together. Therefore, the Halifax nine are side by side on the Nova Scotia section of the memorial wall....never to be forgotten.

Décembre 2017 marquera le 100<sup>e</sup> anniversaire de l'explosion d'Halifax. Non seulement cette explosion aura été la plus importante provoquée par l'homme avant la bombe atomique en 1945, mais elle aura également tué quelque 2 000 citoyens et blessé 9 000 autres. Le Service d'incendie canadien s'en souvient comme le jour le plus sombre de l'histoire des pompiers canadiens, alors que neuf membres du Service des incendies d'Halifax y ont été tués en répondant à l'appel.

En 1917, le port d'Halifax était une installation portuaire florissante de par son rôle de soutien en approvisionnement de la Grande Guerre en Europe. Au matin du jeudi 6 décembre 1917, le vaisseau Imo de 5 000 tonnes, alors à vide, entra en collision avec le navire de munitions Mont Blanc, pleinement chargé, y enfonçant sa proue sur l'avant-tribord du navire. La collision devait provoquer un incendie qui se propagea rapidement sur le pont et dans la cargaison contenant 2 600 tonnes d'explosifs. L'équipage eut tôt fait d'abandonner le navire, et ce dernier partit alors à la dérive pour entrer en collision avec la jetée no 6, où le feu se propagea au quai en bois. Le service des incendies d'Halifax, avisé tout juste avant 9 h, répondit à l'avertisseur d'incendie no 83, de la jetée no 6, qu'il combattait un feu régulier ... c'est du moins ce que les pompiers pensaient!

Les pompiers de la caserne 2 d'Halifax eurent vite fait de répondre avec leur premier appareil motorisé, soit une autopompe américaine Lafrance, connue sous le nom de Patricia. Les six membres d'équipage, le capitaine William Broderick, le capitaine George Maltus, le conducteur Billy Wells, les pompiers Walter Hennessey, Frank Kileen et Frank Leahy, furent les premiers pompiers sur les lieux; or, ils ne savaient rien sur la cargaison du navire. Le chef des pompiers Edward Condon et le chef adjoint William Bunt suivirent bientôt avec leur roadster et, à la vue du feu gigantesque, appelèrent pour déclencher une deuxième alarme.

À 9 h 05, pendant que les pompiers déroulaient les tuyaux pour tenter de lutter contre l'incendie qui se propageait, le Mont Blanc explosa avec une force de trois kilotonnes, nivelant tout dans un rayon de 1,6 kilomètre. Alors qu'un nuage en forme de champignon s'élevait au-dessus du port, un raz-de-marée d'une portée de 18 mètres s'ensuivit, occasionnant encore plus de destruction. Le Mont Blanc fut complètement détruit et sa lance-tourelle expulsée 5,5 kilomètres plus loin pendant que des éclats d'obus s'éparpillaient dans toute la ville. Les pompiers John Spruin et John Duggan, des casernes 1 et 7, furent frappés de plusieurs de ces morceaux en venant porter secours avec des dévidoirs tirés par des chevaux, ce qui les tua eux et leurs chevaux. Le chef, son adjoint et quatre membres du Patricia furent tués instantanément, tandis que miraculeusement le conducteur Billy Wells survécut après avoir été dépouillé de ses vêtements par l'explosion et emporté par le raz-de-marée. Le pompier Frank Leahy survécut à la première explosion, mais devait succomber à ses blessures le 31 décembre. Il repose maintenant en paix avec le pompier Broderick et le chef Condon au cimetière Holy Cross. Les pompiers Brunt, Maltus, Spruin, Hennessey et Kileen ont été enterrés au cimetière Mount Olivet. Quant au pompier John Duggan, son corps ne devait jamais être retrouvé.

Le nombre de morts pour le Service d'incendie de la ville d'Halifax fut de neuf pompiers, et, à ce jour, ce nombre demeure le plus important au Canada pour un même incident, en termes de pompiers morts dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions. En 1992, à l'occasion du 75e anniversaire de l'explosion à Halifax, le service des incendies d'Halifax a érigé un monument en l'honneur de ses membres disparus et, chaque année depuis son inauguration, la Garde d'honneur des Services d'incendie et d'urgence de la région d'Halifax (HRFE) procède à une cérémonie en mémoire des neuf pompiers disparus.

En 2012, les neuf pompiers de Halifax qui furent tués comme tant d'autre qui, tout comme eux, se précipitent vers le danger, ont eu leurs noms gravés sur le nouveau Monument aux pompiers canadiens. Bien que les noms de ceux qui s'y trouvent soient gravés de façon aléatoire dans la région du Canada où ils ont péri, tous ceux qui ont péri ensemble sont gravés ensemble. Cela dit, les neuf pompiers d'Halifax sont gravés côte à côte sur le Mur du Souvenir dans la partie de la Nouvelle-Écosse....

ABOUT THE FOUNDATION

The Canadian Fallen Firefighters Foundation is a registered, non-profit charitable organization dedicated to honouring Canada's fallen firefighters. The Foundation honours all types of firefighters whether volunteer/part-time, paid/full time, industrial, military, urban, rural, wildland, airport, or marine. The Foundation's directors, who volunteer their time, include members from all areas of the Canadian Fire Service as well as representatives from the business community.

The objectives of the Foundation are:

- To operate the Canadian Firefighters Annual Memorial Ceremony and update the memorial wall.
- To provide financial subsidies to families of fallen firefighters for transportation to and lodging in Ottawa during the memorial weekend.
- To provide support programs along with scholarships and bursaries for the children and spouses of firefighters whose line of duty death is recognized by the Foundation.

Since 2004, the Foundation has operated the ceremony with the assistance of Fire Services and organizations from across Canada acting as honorary hosts in Ottawa who represent the Canadian Fire Service with pride. The cost of running a large scale ceremony is daunting and the Foundation would like to thank all of our past and current sponsors for supporting this event. The Foundation operates solely on fundraising from private donations, local fundraising events, and sponsorships from the business community.

With the construction of the Canadian Firefighters Memorial in 2012, the Foundation has now reached all of its initial goals laid out in 2004, but the work is not over. The Foundation will now begin to broaden its assistance to the families of fallen firefighters while continuing to honour them at the annual national ceremony.

The CFFF/Doug Lock Education Fund provides scholarships and bursaries to the children and spouses of Canadian firefighters whose line of duty death has been recognized by the Foundation. The Foundation's ultimate goal is to provide education assistance to every child of a fallen firefighter. The CFFF also provides funeral assistance and supports Camp F.A.C.E.S. for the families of the fallen. For more information, visit cfff.ca.

AU SUJET DE LA FONDATION

La Fondation canadienne des pompiers morts en service (FCPMS) est un organisme de bienfaisance enregistré, à but non lucratif, vouée à rendre hommage à tous les pompiers canadiens morts dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions, ceux-ci tant réguliers (rémunérés à temps plein) que volontaires (à temps partiel), et en provenance de tous les milieux, y compris des secteurs industriel, militaire, urbain, rural, forestier, portuaire et aéroportuaire. Depuis 2004, la Fondation poursuit inlassable la tenue à Ottawa de sa cérémonie annuelle, avec l'aide de services d'incendie et d'organisations de partout au Canada qui agissent à titre d'hôtes honoraires, et qui fièrement représentent le Service d'incendie canadien. Le coût pour la tenue d'une cérémonie de cette envergure en est un important; à cet égard, la Fondation désire remercier tous ses commanditaires, passés et présents, qui l'ont soutenue durant ces événements et qui continuent de le faire. La Fondation opère uniquement à partir du financement en provenance de dons de particuliers, de diverses activités de financement locales et de commandites du milieu des affaires.

Avec l'inauguration en 2012 du Monument aux pompiers canadiens, la Fondation venait d'atteindre tous les objectifs initiaux qu'elle s'était assignés à ses débuts en 2004... mais le travail n'est pas pour autant terminé. La Fondation entend maintenant élargir son aide aux familles des pompiers disparus, et ce, tout en continuant à leur rendre hommage chaque année lors de la cérémonie nationale.

La Fondation a les objectifs suivants :

- Tenue de la Cérémonie annuelle à la mémoire des pompiers canadiens et mise à jour du Mur du souvenir.
- Soutien financier – transport et hébergement - aux familles des disparus lors de leur participation à la fin de semaine commémorative qui se tient à Ottawa.

Le Fonds d'éducation FCPMS/Doug Lock remet des bourses d'étude et d'entretien aux enfants et conjoints des pompiers canadiens dont le décès dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions a été reconnu par la Fondation. L'objectif ultime de la Fondation est d'être en mesure d'offrir une aide à l'éducation à chaque enfant d'un pompier mort en devoir. La Fondation offre aussi une aide aux funérailles et apporte son soutien au Camp F.A.C.E.S. pour les membres de la famille de pompiers disparus. # CANADIAN FIREFIGHTERS MEMORIAL/ MONUMENT AUX POMPIERS CANADIENS

The journey to build the national firefighters memorial began in 2003 and ended on September 9, 2012 with the dedication ceremony by his Excellency the Right Honourable David Johnston, the Governor General and Commander-in-Chief of Canada. The Foundation's goal was reached with the assistance of the Ministry of Canadian Heritage and the National Capital Commission who now maintain the site.

This location of the Canadian Firefighters Memorial (CFM) is significant in the fire history of our nation's capital as it is the area where the Ottawa-Hull conflagration of 1900 crossed over from Hull on the morning of April 26, 1900 after destroying 1300 buildings. On the Ottawa side of the river the fire razed 1400 buildings and killed seven. At the end of the day the fire was stopped from spreading downtown near the exact spot where the monument is located. The site is also close to where Captain John Lowry of the Ottawa Fire Department was killed in the line of duty on August 12, 1896 on Booth Street.

The design "We Were There" by the team of artist Douglas Coupland and landscape architect Mary Tremain of PLANT Architects includes a large bronze statue of a firefighter who has returned to earth from heaven via a sixty-foot high fire pole to point out the names of his fallen comrades on a memorial wall. The memorial wall, in the abstract shape of Canada, contains the names of all fallen firefighters randomly in cloud like formations roughly over the area of Canada near where they died. Firefighters who died together are listed beside each other. A lone pine tree, planted at a significant spot on the memorial site, represents the lone Canadian and the Canadian forests; they are protected from fire by all firefighters. The Foundation's motto, "Never to be Forgotten", is engraved on the pine tree rock. The site contains unique materials which symbolize Canada. Plantings, which turn red in the fall, represent the retardant dropped by air crews who fight devastating forest fires in Canada. Canadian Wildland fire service organizations and its supporters raised the funds for the Lone Pine and its maintenance.

Another unique aspect of the CFM includes the use of old brass hose couplings in the production of some of the bronze elements. Fire departments from across Canada each sent one hose coupling; a piece of their history, to the foundry to be used as part of the Memorial. Parts of the finished bronze elements of the memorial actually have a piece of many departments from across Canada, making it truly national.

Mobile access to the Internet at the site will enable visitors to quickly locate names on the 105 foot wall. The national LODD database kept on the CFFF website includes the location marker for every name engraved on the monument.

The Canadian Firefighters Memorial is open 365 days a year. It captures the significance of the sacrifices made by the Canadian Fire Service in a uniquely Canadian setting where we can remember those in the fire service who have given their lives for communities across Canada.

L'aventure pour ériger le monument national à la mémoire des pompiers a débuté en 2003 et s'est terminée le 9 septembre 2012, avec la cérémonie d'inauguration du mémorial présidée par Son Excellence le très honorable David Johnston, gouverneur général et commandant en chef du Canada. L'objectif de la Fondation a été atteint grâce à l'aide du ministère de Patrimoine Canada et de la Commission de la capitale nationale qui verra dorénavant à maintenir le site.

Le site où se trouve le Monument aux pompiers canadiens (MPC) revêt un caractère important pour l'histoire des incendies de la capitale nationale. En effet, c'est là même, le matin du 26 avril 1900, que l'incendie d'Ottawa-Hull a traversé la rivière à partir de Hull après y avoir détruit 1 300 bâtiments. Du côté d'Ottawa, la conflagration avait rasé 1 400 immeubles et entraîné la mort de sept personnes. En fin de journée, le feu avait été maîtrisé au centre ville, tout près du site où le monument se dresse aujourd'hui. Le site se trouve aussi à proximité de l'endroit où le capitaine John Lowry, du Service des incendies d'Ottawa, est mort en service le 12 août 1896 sur la rue Booth.

Le concept « Nous étions là », issu de l'équipe composée de l'artiste Douglas Coupland et de l'architecte paysagiste Mary Tremain, comprend une grande statue en bronze d'un pompier descendu du ciel par un mât de descente de soixante pieds, et atterri là pour indiquer du doigt les noms de ses camarades disparus s'échelonnant sur le Mur du souvenir. Empruntant la forme abstraite du Canada, le mur accueille les noms des sacrifiés dans des formations nébuleuses surplombant la région ou province aux environs de laquelle ils ont péri. Les pompiers qui sont morts ensemble y sont inscrits un à côté de l'autre. Un pin solitaire, poussant à un endroit significatif du site mémorial, représente le Canadien solitaire et la forêt canadienne que le pompier en bronze protège de la conflagration. On constate que le mât de descente agit aussi en guise de paratonnerre. La devise de la Fondation, « Gravé dans nos mémoires », est inscrite sur la pierre à laquelle s'accroche le pin. Le site contient des matériaux uniques qui représentent le Canada. Les plantations, qui tournent rouge à l'automne, représentent le retardateur largué par les équipages d'avions-citernes qui tentent d'éteindre les incendies ravageant les forêts de l'Ouest du Canada. Il est à noter que ce sont des organisations de lutte contre les feux de forêt et leurs supporters qui ont amassé les fonds nécessaires pour le projet du « Pin solitaire » et de sa maintenance.

Un détail tout à fait unique du MPC consiste dans le fait que quelques-uns des éléments de bronze du monument ont été produits à partir de vieux raccords de boyaux en laiton. En effet, des services d'incendie de partout au Canada ont été invités à soumettre à la fonderie un raccord de boyau en laiton, soit un morceau de leur histoire, pour être utilisé dans la construction du mémorial. Cela dit, les éléments de bronze du monument commémoratif comportent une parcelle de plusieurs services d'incendie de partout au Canada, ce qui le caractérise comme étant un monument vraiment national.

L'accès Internet à partir d'appareils mobiles permettra aux visiteurs sur le site de rapidement localiser les noms sur le mur de 105 pieds (32 mètres). La base de données nationale des décès en service, accessible sur le site Web de la Fondation, inclut le marqueur d'emplacement de chaque nom gravé sur le monument.

Le Monument aux pompiers canadiens est ouvert 365 jours par année. Il exprime la portée des sacrifices consentis par ceux et celles qui font partie du Service d'incendie canadien, et ce, dans un contexte typiquement canadien où l'on peut se recueillir et se rappeler ceux et celles du service d'incendie qui, partout à travers le Canada, auront fait le sacrifice ultime en venant en aide à leur collectivité respective.

HONNEUR – SOUVENIR – SOUTIEN

Depuis le tout premier décès enregistré en 1848, 1 375 pompiers canadiens sont morts dans l'exercice de leurs fonctions. La raison d'être de la Fondation canadienne des pompiers morts en service est de faire en sorte que tous ces pompiers - et ceux et celles qui suivront - ne soient jamais oubliés. La Fondation, qui voit à l'organisation et à la gestion de cette Cérémonie annuelle à la mémoire des pompiers canadiens, a par ailleurs mis sur pied des programmes d'aide, dont un fonds d'aide pour les frais de funérailles et un programme de bourses d'études pour les enfants et conjoints de ces pompiers.
